

Responsibilities for Scientific Research and Graduate Studies Committee:

The scientific research and graduate studies committee is responsible for:

- Supervise the curricular development and implementation of higher studies.
- Recommend the admission of lists of students received from all departments to the faculty dean.
- Manage the supervision of all graduate students enrolled in their program and monitor their progress.
- Monitor examinations and theses of graduate students.
- Review proposals for graduate students or members of academic staff before being sent to the dean of graduate studies or dean of scientific research for final approval.
- Oversee the preparation of self-study reports for graduate studies program
- Provide annual report regarding research activity for members of staff and graduate studies program in the faculty.