

2. Scientific Research Committee:

The scientific research committee is responsible for:

- Monitor and review research projects on Faculty level.
- Guide the development of the Faculty strategic research priorities and objectives and monitor research performance within the framework of the Faculty strategic planning process.
- Hold one to two events annually to facilitate the exchange and dissemination of information concerning research and research training issues for the Faculty members of different departments and coordinate with other Faculties on a broader level if possible.
- Provide annual report regarding research activity for members of staff in the faculty.